

Stevie Coleman is the Head of HR at Mobility Capital Finance, better known as MoCaFi from 9 to 5, and an entrepreneur all the time. Stevie also works as a career consultant to help professionals find their next, best opportunity, offering her services at StevieLColeman.com. She worked as a career counselor from her freshman year at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign until she graduated from the same institution with her Master of Human Resources 5.5 years later. While Stevie currently works in Financial Technology (FinTech), throughout her over 10-year career she has provided HR support within the digital media, TV production, aerospace, manufacturing, and safety solutions industries.

Stevie enjoys helping everyone from students to executives rebrand themselves, focus on a new career goal, and/or prepare for interviews. When Stevie has downtime she can be found binge-watching then recreating beauty tutorials.
