

Juan Calixto, CFRE, joined Chicago Community Loan Fund (CCLF) in May 2013 and manages the organization's fundraising, marketing and communications activities. He also supports the agency's public policy initiatives and advocates for fair access to capital in low wealth communities. He has 30 years of nonprofit experience working in various leadership positions. Juan is co-founder of Latinos in Development and of the "Breakin' It Down" fundraising and nonprofit management conference. He is an Adjunct Faculty member of North Park University teaching grant writing to graduate students.