

Alex Dudasik, Happiness Coordinator

Alex joined Aspiritech in 2014 as a Software Tester (now called a QA Analyst), after getting an Associate Degree in Graphic Arts Technology from Harper College. Today, he serves as Aspiritech's Community Engagement & Happiness Coordinator, which includes coordinating Aspiritech's Stepping Up & Out program, where he plans both virtual and in-person events and activities for neurodivergent employees and community members. Alex, who has ASD himself, enjoys a variety of nerdy hobbies, including reading, watching tv shows and movies, playing video games, and going to conventions. Some of Alex's favorite fandoms include Nintendo, Super Mario, Pokémon, Disney, Pixar, Marvel, Star Wars, Harry Potter, DC, and Naruto.