

Christina Bourné is an accomplished fundraising and nonprofit professional with a focus in board and staff development, annual campaign planning, program development, diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) implementation, and strategic planning. During her 15-year career, her unique skills have allowed her to work with longstanding and emerging leaders in arts and culture, education and youth services, and social justice in the nonprofit and corporate sector. Some of her past leadership roles have been Director of Education and Creative Engagement at the Auditorium Theatre of Roosevelt University, Interim Executive Director of Muntu Dance Theatre, Assistant Director of Development for All Stars Project of Chicago, and founding member and Program Manager for Enrich Chicago - an arts led movement aimed at undoing racism and building racial equity within the sector.

A community organizer at heart, Christina takes pride in building individual and organizational capacity through lasting change management frameworks that challenge clients to go beyond rhetoric to responsibility with equity and sustainability at the helm. Whether helping to establish a new nonprofit or assisting a longstanding organization to implement strategy for growth, she believes in the importance of a “community centered” approach to every project.

Christina currently serves as the Director of Development for Forward Momentum Chicago, Adjunct Consultant with Evolve Giving Group, member of the Arts All Leadership Council at Arts Alliance Illinois, and Board Chair of Awakenings Art. She also sings professionally with her family of nine comprised of her siblings and mother—The Bournés.
