

Bio:

Becky Kiely is an Assistant Vice President with CCS Fundraising, a strategic fundraising firm that partners with nonprofits for transformational change. Since joining the firm in 2018, she has worked across the higher education, academic medicine, healthcare, and social service sectors to direct campaigns from $40M - $225M and to collaborate with teams to support high level development operations. Prior to joining CCS, Becky worked at Loyola University Chicago in corporate and foundation development and at Cristo Rey Jesuit High School in Pilsen in scholarship fundraising, board management, and development operations.

Becky lives in Chicago, where she serves on the Board of Directors for Green City Market, Chicago's largest, year-round sustainable farmers market. She is also an MBA candidate in the Baumhart Scholars Program at Loyola University Chicago - a selective program within Loyola's Quinlan School of Business that prepares leaders from the private, government, and social sectors to thrive at the intersection of profit and purpose. Becky earned her bachelor's degree from Georgetown University.
