

Andrea Porter, AM

Director of Major Gifts

Northwestern Pritzker School of Law

Andrea maintains expertise in raising funds and support to advance the mission of equity-centered organizations in the Chicagoland area. She is a trained fundraiser with 12+ years of experience in raising funds from both individuals and institutions for causes ranging from housing insecurity to women's rights, and beyond.

She currently serves as the Director of Major Gifts for Northwestern Pritzker School of Law. Before joining Northwestern, she served as a Major Gifts Officer with the Illinois Institute of Technology. In her role, Andrea led the creation of a supportive pipeline for CPS students of color to receive a premier STEM education at no cost to them, a program that has garnered almost $15M to date. Prior to this role, Andrea served as the Major Gifts & Planned Giving Officer for the Shriver Center on Poverty Law, a national organization that focuses on eradicating poverty and racism.
