

Kristienne Hanna

Kristienne Hanna is currently the director of development at Swedish Covenant Hospital Foundation. She has 15 years of experience working in all aspects of fund development for nonprofits, with 12 years focused exclusively on health care philanthropy. Kristienne has been involved with APP Chicago since 2010, serving on both the marketing and Midwest Conference committees before taking on the role of SVP, Communications and External Relations. She holds a B.A. in Journalism and Mass Communications from Drake University, and is pursuing an MBA from North Park University. She lives in the Norwood Park neighborhood with her husband, Christopher and two children.