

Name: Jewelette Christopher of AFP GLAC

Designations, if any:

Title: Director of Development

Company: USC Marshall School of Business

Jewelette Christopher has supported philanthropy at some of our nation's finest institutions. She is currently a development officer with the University of Southern California where she also leads the DEI efforts for the USC Marshall School of Business' external relations. She previously worked in healthcare advancement at the University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston, where she raised funds for the UTHealth School of Medicine and School of Public Health. Prior to that, she helped complete a centennial campaign with Rice University. Jewel is an alumna of USC.