

Workshop: The Role of Boards in Nonprofit Organizations

Presented by Marilyn Foster Kirk, CFRE

Volunteer boards play a vital role in determining effectiveness of nonprofit organizations. This seminar designed for executive directors, board members, program directors and fundraising professionals will provide an overview of best practices for building strong boards. Topics to be covered will include fiduciary duty, governance, responsibility for operational oversight and program effectiveness, and resource acquisition.

Marilyn Foster Kirk, CFRE, is associate chancellor for development at the University of Illinois at Chicago and associate vice president of the University of Illinois Foundation.

Previously Marilyn served in fundraising and university relations positions at Northwestern University, the University of Wisconsin-Parkside, Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary, Carroll College and the Kansas State Historical Society. In addition, she was vice president/dean of student affairs and a member of the psychology faculty at Westmar College.

She studied at Kansas Wesleyan University, the University of Oklahoma, the University of Kansas, and the Harvard University Graduate School of Education.

When: July 19th 1pm- 4:30 pm

Where: Room 110, CUPPA Hall

412 S. Peoria Street, Chicago, IL 60607

This workshop is open to all and there are discounts for the UIC community and free admission for students.

This class is approved for 3.5 credit hours toward CFRE requirements

Visit Cuppa-pa.uic.edu/summer-workshops to register today.

Hosted by the Department of Public Administration at UIC
cuppa-pa.uic.edu