

Generational Giving: Engaging the Next Generation of Philanthropists

Webinar

Presenters

Doug London, CFRE, MSM
Executive Vice President, CCS Fundraising

Doug London has been with CCS for more than eight years and in fundraising for his entire professional career. Having grown up in a household where giving back was prioritized, Doug learned at a young age the power and value that philanthropy can have in communities around the world. Today, he brings forward this same philosophy to his children and continues to be driven by the ability to make a positive impact through his career.

As an Executive Vice President, Doug leads a variety of partnerships and client engagements across the Central U.S. His areas of expertise include fundraising planning, leadership and major gift strategy, donor stewardship, volunteer mobilization, and development staff coaching and management. Doug feels it's a humbling privilege to work alongside such talented minds to accomplish great things through philanthropy.

Outside of his day-to-day role at CCS, Doug is focused on community and charity in his personal life. He is active with the Lake Forest College Alumni Board, the Alzheimer's Association, Association of Fundraising Professionals (AFP), National Association of Independent Schools, CEEP Network, and the Association Foundation Group. Within CCS, Doug co-founded the PRIDE at CCS Employee Resource Group and is a member of the DEI Working Group and of the Central US Recruitment Committee.

Doug is a native Chicagoan and received his bachelor's in Communications & Politics from Lake Forest College. Outside of work, he enjoys spending time with his family, traveling, and competing in triathlons.
